

Bio 2019

June 3-6 (Student Day June 6)
Philadelphia (Pennsylvania Convention Center)
Register by May 10th
For: Students over age 21

BIO2019 is one of the world's largest conferences devoted to biotechnology industry partnerships/business development see <https://convention.bio.org/2019/>. This year the conference is close (Philadelphia) so provides a unique opportunity for networking/professional development for those interested in biotech industry careers.

The Delaware Bioscience association (<https://delawarebio.org/>) is one of the sponsors and has made available comp tickets for student day, Weds June 6th ($300 value) for students enrolled in Delaware Universities (graduate or undergraduate, but must be 21 years of age to attend).

If you would like to attend, please register here: https://delaware.ca1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_6G5S0P3UogLv86V
Registrations must be complete with Delaware Bio by May 10th and the final BIO2019 registration complete (information will be sent upon qualtrics reservation) by 8pm May 17th in order to attend.

Note that Delaware Bioscience is organizing bus transportation to the event that will stop in Dover (for Wesley/DSU students) as well as the UD main campus. This will cost you $20 and will include one meal. For those interested in bus transportation, more information will follow upon registration.

Melinda

Melinda K. Duncan, Ph.D., FARVO
Professor, Department of Biological Sciences
Director of Education and Professional Development, Delaware INBRE
University of Delaware, Newark, DE 19716 USA

Trustee, Association for Research in Vision and Ophthalmology
Editorial Board Member, Investigative Ophthalmology and Visual Sciences

duncanm@udel.edu; (302)831-0533; FAX (302)831-2281
<http://www.bio.udel.edu/people/melinda-duncan.php>